BROAD STREET

By

Harley M. Leete, Jr.

In my NOTE BAG I find an item which I don't think I should deny Faithful Reader any longer. It's about the amazing group of HOLLYWOOD ARABS who preceded our plain but honest delegation in a hearing before the State Highway Commission a few days ago.

These characters — there were about half a dozen of them but they made more noise than seals at feeding time—appeared before the commission on behalf of the HOLLYWOOD BOWL. The state, it appeared, is planning a road freeway somewhere in the neighborhood of the bowl. The LONG-HAIRED ONES had prepared an enormous terra cotta display which showed in miniature facsimile practically every blade of grass in the whole of Hollywood.

The first guy who got up to talk was about 8 feet tall and must have weighed 300 pounds. He started out with a thirty minute biography of himself including how, he started from nothing and ended up buying and selling every lot in Hollywood. When he sat down a corps of oleaginous voiced underlings took over. BIG BOY was dressed fairly conservative and his hair was only about six inches long, but his lieutenants were fourteen karat Hollywood -and-Viners.

They all had amazingly beautiful long heads of hair. Their coats were drape-shaped with skirts like the dirndls in the Monkey Ward catalog and shoulders like Red Grange in his gridiron garb. Each one unhesitatngly overcame his natural modesty and regaled the Commission and restless audience with biography. It was amusing as all get out, but pretty soon the hot air began to take the curl out of their permanents and we got bored and went out and had lunch at the Elks Club, courtesy of H. F. Sofge.

The Commission was also bored, not to say antagonized, and when we came back from lunch, they had the Hollywood characters stand by while we told the sad story of the INDIAN FLAT ROAD, how it wasn't flat and took an Indian to find his way around the curves.

Every now and then I throw in a plug for an advertiser or even a competitor into this column on the YOU SCATCH MY BACK AND I'LL SCRATCH YOURS theory, so today (Don't go away, this won't hurt a bit) I'm throwing in a plug for the NEVADA CITY NUGGET. We not only publish the livest bi-weekly newspaper in Nevada County (OKAY, SMARTY, so it IS the only bi-weekly) but we turn out just about the best quality printing you've ever seen, and mighty reasonable, too. We'll do anything from printing a book (AT YOUR EXPENSE) to handul of windshield stickers or a NO TRESPASSING sign.

The rectangular glass fish bowl in that well known Commercial Street rotisserrie has mysteriously disappeared and been replaced by a round bowl. As a matter of statistics, about four rectangular bowls have disappeared—something about a chemical in the coral Mac had on display there dissolving the GLUE that held the plate glass bowls together. VERY interesting—take a letter, Miss Secretary, to Sherlock Holmes.

NOTE TO SANTA CRUZ AIRMEN'S CLUB (who are flying up here en masse this Sunday, Fergoshsakes, why couldn't you fellas have done this a couple of weeks ago for the AIR CIRCUS?

SADNESS NOTE: Two local businessmen are departing for other parts. Reason. NOT ENOUGH BIZ. HAPPINESS NOTE: NEW PEOPLE come into the Nugget Office every day to subscribe to — Thanks for stopping me, one plug per column is our limit, almost.

MAIL BAG: From Alleghany comes an editorial from "THE DEMOCRAT" by Henry Wallace, warning against the formation of a third party in the United States, which Wallace says would play into the hands of 'reaction." VERRRY INTERESTING, in the light of Friday's development in Washington, Good-Bye Happy man who might just possibly turn Henry, you would not be the last man who might just possiblye turn up leading a third party yourself, with James Roosevelt, Ickes, the junior Will Rogers, CIO-PAC et al.

Almost 1500 pounds of good Nevada County beef was consumed yesterday at the Grass Valley reunion and barbecue given in Watt Park to raise funds for the construction of a new St. Patrick's Catholic Church building under the spnsoroship of Catholic parishioners association.

During the afternoon from 1 until 5 p. m. thousands were served with barbecued beef, Spanish beans, cold slaw, sliced tomatoes, coffee and bread.

Thanksgiving Dinners Prepared In October

It's nice to have the family home for Thanksgiving dinner but it usually means a lot of work for mother.

Preparing the turkey for the oven, the vegetables for the kettles, the salad, the dessert and the "trimmings" keep her in the kitchen for hours before the dinner is ready, unless she prepared them for the stove, days, weeks or even months in advance.

If she has deep freezing and storage equipment mother can prepare her Thanksgiving dinner during spare moments in September or October, if she wishes, but she should be careful if she wants to have the best results.

Strict adherence to tested methods of freezing and storage of prefrozen foods must be followed to avoid disappointments, according to Dr. Vera G. Mrak, nutrition specialist University of California agricultural extension service.

Only foods of the highest quality should be used. Preparation, packaging, freezing and storage should be done quickly and according to recommendations.

New License Plate For First Time Since '41

California motorists are going to get a new pair of license plates in 1947 for the first time sine 1941 but they may have to wait several months for them.

The Department of Motor Vehicles announced today that because of the current demand for steel, only 40 per cent of the 1847 contract for approximately 3,000,000 pairs of plates will have been manufactured by January 2 and when the annual license renewal season starts.

Director Edgar E. Lampton said manufacture of the entire order may be delayed up to April 1 which means that some motorists may wait as late as June 1 for their plates.

The manufacturer already has started work on the contract, Lampton said but the steel mills will not promise delivery of the last third of the steel required until some time in the frist quarter of 1947.

A similar condition prevails as to the single 1945 plate which up to recently was issued for the registration of new cars. The supply has been almost exhausted as has the supply or cardboard plates used for a time. Emergency windshield stickers will hereafter be employed in lieu of both steel and paper plates.

The 1947 plates are being manufactured by the Norris Stamping and Manufacturing Company, of Los Angeles. They will have orange letters with a black background. The department will start registration reneways at the usual time but probably will issue receipts entitling owners to operate their vehicles until plates are available.

Schools Have Deer Hunting Holiday Today

The Grass Valley and the Nevada City school boards have declared Monday, September 23, a school holiday in order to give teachers and students a chance to bring in each one his buck on opening day.

The school boards, having declared May 1st a holiday, in order to give all hands an opportunity to angle for trout, conosidered that the logic that called for a holiday for fishing is still good for a hunting holiday.

Veteran hunters expect that opening day of the deer season will find more hunters in the woods than any day in the county's history.

FELIX ISRAEL IS BORNE TO REST

Private funeral services under directions of Holmes Funeral Home for Felix Israel who died Friday night in a local hospital were held this morning at Sierra View Cemetery in Marysville.

The deceased was born in Poland 64 years ago and came to this country to make his home in Los Angeles

"At present" he continued, "taxes increasing operating costs and the unrealistic administrative policies of the federal government discourage such a program."

Saying that no man could speak for the veterans as a whole, Knowland a World War II veteran himself said he did not believe "that we should scrap the American way of life and exchange it for the communism of Russia or the fascism or socialism of much of Europe."

Referring to the recent change of amounts allowed veterans under the apprenticeship training program, Knowland pointed out that the changes were made on the recommendation of the veterans admistration. However he said, a hardship was worked on those on the lower end of the scale. I shall support in the next congress an amendment that will increase the earnings permitted at the bottom of the scale while protecting the treasury and the veterans from the abuses that have grown in the upper brackets.

Knowland pledged to veterans that he would "continue in the future as I have in the past to work in a constructive manner toward the solution of these probolems in a way that will be fair to the men and women who are in the armed services and at the same time will not be detrimental to the nation we cherish."

RACE PREJUDICE

Race prejudice is something we don't have much of up here in Nevada Cyity, we are glad to say, but there is a lot of it wandering around the country in one malicious form or another.

A while ago, there was a big Klu Klux Klan scare in California followed shortly by a rash of lynchings in the benighted South. Of course the horrible example of the Hitlerites in Germany is still fresh in the minds of many of us.

Race prejudice thrives for only one reason: it gives puny, measly, mentally-undernourished nitwits an excuse to think they are better than some one else. Everyone of the number of individuals we've known who were afflicted with the blight of believing themselves superior to some one else because of race, were socially and mentally inferior besides being just plain not worth a damn.

Noone can label himself a complete jerk more quickly and effectively than by proclaiming himself a ONE HUNDRED PER CENT AMERICAN. Nothing is more idiotic at this late day and age. Let's have more citizens who are ONE PER CENT AMERICAN and NINETY-NINE PER CENT HUMAN BEINGS!—H. M. L. Jr.

PROPOSED EXTENSION OF "A" STREET— AN EXPENSIVE TOSS-UP

"A" Street is the little street one block long that runs in front of the Gillet Nursery, a block off Nevada Street. It's one of the prettiest spots in town, up on a knoll and grown with pine trees of great age.

Almost all the families that live in that neighborhood have very small children. The fact that their homes are located on three one-block streets with practically no traffic is a considerable boon to busy mothers, who don't have to contend with the ever-present fear of having their children run over by automobiles or trucks.

The city council is considering extending "A" Street to where it would connect with the Willow Valley Road. Almost all the residents of "A" Street, Nursery Street, and Nihell Street are opposed to the extension.

They feel it will partly spoil the charm of one of the nicest parts of town. It might be used as a short cut from Willow Valley, and then the children could no longer play unwatched in the quiet, blind streets.

The supposed advantage of opening "A" Street is that it will make several lots available for city taxes. It will benefit property owners who wish to sell lots for which there is at present no outlet.

It will be a difficult and expensive road to build, because the land dips down a steep hill into a swamp, and steeply up again. There is no question but what the private interests of a small group of people would be benefited by extending "A" Street, but on the other hand, the interests of another group of people might be harmed, They certainly think so.

From where we sit, it looks like a toss-up. And a rather EXPENSIVE toss-up. Why not spend the city's money on something a little more attractive to all of us?

How about it, Mr. City Council?—H. M. L. Jr.

The proofreader on a certain small southern newspaper happened to be a woman of great precision and extreme propriety. One day a reporter succeeded in getting into type an item about "Willie Brown, the boy who was burned in the West End by a live wire."

On the following day he found on his desk a frigid note from the proofreader asking: "Which is the West End of a boy?"

It took him only an instant to reply: "The end the son sets on of course."—Wall Street Journal.

Grass Valley Grill Is Picketed

Two pickets paced before the Grass Valley Grill on Mill Street Saturday and yesterday, reportedly placed there by Marysville Culinary Workers Union No. 715, AFL.

Mrs. Lola Richmond, proprietor of the restaurant stated that but one employe was a member of the union and that one left when the picket line was established

Mrs. Richmond yesterday left on the tables of all her clients the following statement signed by her employes:

"We the employes of the Valley Grill, have no dispute with the management of Valley Grill. The union does not represent us and we want to continue to work as free Americans without paying tribute to anyone. We appreciate your patronage."

Mrs. Richmond reports that she refused to sign a contract submitted to her by the union. Mrs. Richmond said she was not against any union but will not sign a contract that will force employes to join any organization against their will in order to work for her.

Dictatorship Kills Art Says Professor

Neither Italy nor Germany produced anything artistically worthwhile during their totalitarian regimes and with the possible exception of music the same is true for Russia.

This is nothing new says Eugen Neuhaus, professor of art on the Berkeley campus of the University of California. He points out that such regimes have never been conducive to artistic development.

It will be many years, Prof. Neuhaus believes before any really great works of art can be expected from most of the European nations. Such as are produced will typify what he calls "the art of the empty stomach" depicting misery, suffering and want because the people will be more concerned with satisfying bodily rather than spiritual needs.

JC Man Describes American Quisling

Quislings are produced by a strange orientation of emotional attitudes resulting rom unfortunate childhood experience.

This is the conclusion of The Case Study of an American Quisling, an actual clinical case described by Dr. R. N. Sanford, associate professor of psychology on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

The case was chosen for intensive study because the subject represented a pattern of opinions and attitudes found commonly in men who scored high on prejudice tests developed by the University of California Public Opinion Study of which Dr. Sanford is director.

One of the paradoxes of the man's nature was that he was very close to being an idealist and a champion of the oppressed, but these inclinations were turned around by childhood experience.

In childhood Dr. Sanford's Quising faced constant conflict between his father and mother. The father was brutal oppressive to the mother, and appeared to the boy to be all powerful.

To escape the annihilation which opposition symbolized to the boy, he sided with the father, fearing and at the same time admiring his power. In siding with the father, it was necessary to blame the mother as the oppressor.

The same kind of twisting of impulses made it possible for him as an adult to support the foreign enemy against his own country, the latter being in his mind representative of his mother.

Garden Club Has Outdoor Meeting

Nevada City Garden Club was able to holod another meeting out of doors on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Tourtelotte. Members gathered on the patio under the singing pines. This patio is an especially interesting one being made of rings of cedar embedded in sand. The Tourtelotte garden spot is a fine example of what can be done with our natural wooded country.

Several more birds of the community were studied. Miss G. Goyne gave an informative talk on the bluejay. Mrs. Perry discussed the chat. Mrs. Esther Hingston talked on the proper method of planting and caring for sweet peas, which she found more than repaid her in lovely blossoms. Mrs. Alice Hiscox reviewed the work to be done in the garden during September.

The group passed a resolution to do something constructive toward making the community beauty conscious to the extent of at least cleaning up the unsightly vacant lots.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Desmond hostesses with Mrs. Tourtelotte. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Chester Stevens on Piety Hill.

PUEBLOS AND ESKIMOS HELPING FIGHT FAMINE

The Pueblo Indians of New Mexico and the Eskimos in Alaska have been doing their bit of sharing in the food for all campaign. The Indians have contributed part of their small supplies of wheat and corn and the Eskimos have sent a check for $40 to UNRRA to help in the global fight against hunger.
